

HELLO ACCELERATOR

a global platform accelerating impact through collaboration to design innovative solutions for and with people on the move.

Catalyzing Changemaking for Migration Solutions

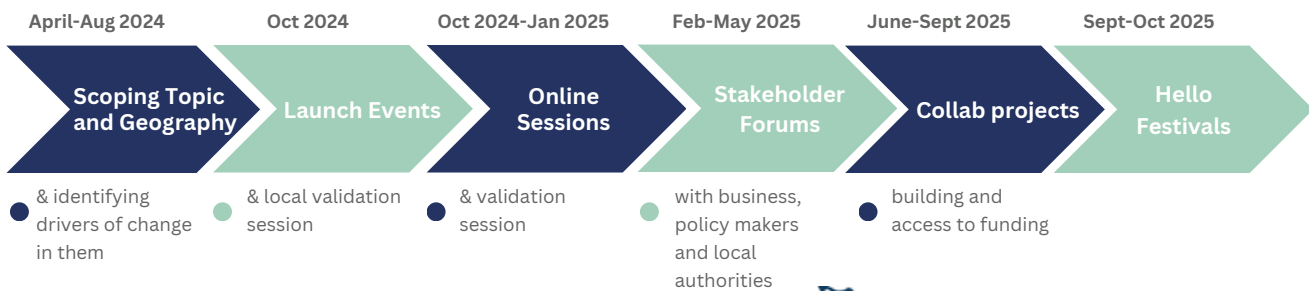

Hello Accelerator is designed as a process bringing together key stakeholders to analyze, build and implement strategies to accelerate impact in the field of migration.

Socio-economic Inclusion for Migrant Talent

We see significant opportunity for collaborative innovations to emerge in this topic.

In response, we have developed a 2-year programme in strategic partnership with IKEA Social Entrepreneurship to:

- Support social entrepreneurs with systemic solutions in the field
- Bring key stakeholders together to build collaborative solutions
- Scale these solutions to corporate and policy structures
- Spread changemaking stories and knowledge across the sector

IMPLEMENTATION PHASE

Parallel process in Europe and Latin America

In Latin America, we have seen that socio-economic inclusion in the region is related to a need for narrative change around migration, because of its effects on full access to basic needs and rights of people on the move. Recognizing the value of migrant talent and their skills can influence their portrayal in media, the policies that regulate their access to social systems and work, and give them an equal chance for a dignified life.

In Europe, we will be looking at opening the door for skill-aligned work and shifting narratives to recognize the value people on the move bring into host communities. We understand that creating an environment for migrant talent to thrive through work contributes to the prosperity of all.

Envisioned Impact

 Innovative Solutions, Scaling, and Funding: We aim to support social entrepreneurs with migrant experience in achieving systemic change, expanding their networks, gaining visibility and accessing funding.

 Collaboration to Address Root Causes: By connecting leading social entrepreneurs and key stakeholders, we seek to accelerate impact in Europe and Latin America and disseminate systemic solutions to corporate and policy structures.

 New Narratives and Strategies Co-created with Migrant Changemakers: We strive to capture and share changemaking stories, publish insights, and disseminate knowledge back into the field.

What we are looking for People who can commit to a deep process where everyone plays a key role in strategizing and designing collective solutions, which we can implement afterward. Someone open to sharing their experience and learnings, and co-creating with others in a trustworthy and empathetic environment. We also seek participants who have knowledge of the ecosystem as a whole and are at a moment where they can spend time and energy in working at this high level with others.

What you will gain

By participating, you will gain strategic and profound connections with other key leaders in the same sector across Europe and LATAM, a high-level learning environment where you can generate new knowledge that will benefit your own work, organization and the overall community, and a group of peers with a shared vision that can reach change at a systemic level.

Support social entrepreneurs with systemic solutions in the field.

Bring key stakeholders together to build collaborative solutions.

Scale these solutions to corporate and policy structures.

Spread changemaking stories and knowledge across the sector.
